Dear Parent / Carer

Year 10 examinations

As you will be aware the year 10 examinations will be taking place between May and July, beginning with the English Literature exam on Monday 21st May. Each student has now received their individual exam timetable to help them prepare in advance for these upcoming exams.

With this in mind, it is great to see the vast majority of our year 10 students have started regularly revising in preparation for these examinations. All students have been given a green study skills booklet in tutor time with space for their personal revision timetable and reminders of the six learning strategies that they have been practising with their tutor, for example retrieval practice and spaced practice. It would be beneficial for parents/carers to look at the personalised revision timetables for their reference. Developing a positive revision routine at this point will continue to support students with their learning into year 11.

To further support the efforts being put into revision outside the classroom we have also attached three information sheets for the core subject areas English, Maths and Science. Within these information sheets you will find useful revision website names and addresses along with information about their upcoming exams.

We share with you the desire for your children to achieve the best grades possible by the end of year 11, and are sure that we can rely on your support and encouragement at this time.

Yours sincerely
